Nate...

We may be at a dead end insofar as producing a video by Friday 2/22 is concerned. I can double back and see what Mia can do in terms of her schedule. We already know she can't do it this week. If we can produce a video by next Friday, 3/29, does that work? Or, by Friday, Friday April 5?

I can't see waiting until May. I'd think we can get on Mia's schedule before that.

Let me know your thoughts.

Hi Don,

Left you a message earlier. I'm sorry, but after going over my schedule I see there's no way I can take this project on right now. I really like it and would love to be a part of it, but it's just impossible for me to give it any attention until the end of May. Sorry about this, and if you can't wait that long I completely understand.

Please let me know if you think that's a possibility. And again, sorry about this.

Thanks,

T

The attached story board really reduces the amount of photo work we need to do. I would still like to do the landing airplane sequence we paced off, however. When? I need to make arrangements to get our model on site for us. Please call or email asap. Thanks.
